Friends and brothers: I come from your great father, the President of the United States, with a talk. Listen to what I say. Last winter I visited your country; your people were generally out on their hunting expedition; I saw but few of you. I was obliged to leave here when I did go, because your father, the President, made it my duty to superintend the emigration of Colonel John Blunt and his people, according to the treaty between that chief and the United States. I discharged Blunt and his people at the city of New Orleans, and they are gone to their new homes beyond the Mississippi river. [His service engaged my attention until May last, when, under permission from your father, the President, I started to visit my family in Georgia. On my way my horse ran away with my carriage, and came very near destroying me, which caused me much sickness, and obliged me to remain away from you until now. I am glad that I meet you all now in council.]

On the 9th of May, 1832, you entered into a treaty at Payne's Landing. I come from the President to tell you that he has complied with all his promises to you in that treaty; that he was bound to do before you move; and that you must prepare to move by the time the cold weather of the winter shall have passed away. I have a proposition to you from your brothers, the chiefs of the western Creek nation; but before I present it to you, I will read to you the preamble of the 1st article of the treaty at Payne's Landing. [That part of the treaty was then read; the treaty at Fort Gleson was read, and the map of the country allotted to the Seminoles was shown to them and explained.] Having thus shown to you that the country which you have acquired beyond the Mississippi for this which you have, by the treaty of Payne's Landing, sold to the United States, lies adjoining your brothers of the west, I now proceed to present to you their proposition.

Instead of settling in the country allotted to you (adjoining to them) in a body by yourselves, they invite you to settle promiscuously among them, and all become, as in by-gone years, one people. They say they are ready with open arms to receive you as brothers, whether you determined to settle by yourselves, or promiscuously among them; but they think all will be more prosperous and happy, and that there will be less strife and contention if you will, on their invitation, relinquish your right to a separate settlement, and settle promiscuously among them. Such an arrangement will, they think, enable the Muscogee people to become, as they were in the days of other years, a great nation. You alone have the right to decide whether you will accept the invitation or not; it is left, as it should be, entirely optional with you, and no person but yourselves has any right to say you shall or shall not accede to the proposition. Take this with you when you retire, reflect upon it, and make up your minds for yourselves and your people.

Though the President does not believe that any of his red children here are so dishonest and faithless as to refuse to go, yet a circumstance occurred last year which induced a belief that some person or persons around here had a disposition to meddle in regard to the removal; that some person had recommended that a delegation should be sent to the President. This made the President angry and he sent his orders in writing. [Here the letter from the War Department, dated February 21, 1834, to his excellency William P. Duval, was read and explained.]

This agency will be discontinued after the 31st December next: the lands here will be surveyed and sold, and the laws of the white man will soon be extended over this country; therefore, the sooner you leave this land the better for you. The most comfortable and expeditious mode of travelling for you, your old men, women, and children, is by water. I think that, if you wish, and should request me to ask your father, the President, to send you by water, his consent may be obtained. As to the idle reports that I have heard flying about in regard to an intention to take from you your negroes, as well as the foolish reports that some of the negroes will not consent to go, I have only to say that your father, the President, will defend you and your property from all persons, white as well as others; and as to your negroes, should there be any so foolish as to object to going with you, he will compel them to go, even in irons, if necessary. I have other propositions to present to you, and which I want you also to consult upon, and give me an answer as soon as you have made up your minds.

The next question arises out of the 5th article of the treaty at Payne's Landing; [that article was read and explained.] The question is, whether those among you who own cattle (which are to be given up to the United States here at a fair valuation) will prefer to take cattle at your new home, or there to receive the amount of money which shall be adjudged to be the value of the cattle you give up here? I wish those of you who desire cattle to be returned to you, at your new home, for such as you may have here, to inform me of your wish, that the government may be apprised in time to comply.

The next question is, whether you will petition to go by water as the best mode for getting all the old men, women, the children, lame, sick, and lazy of your people, comfortably along on their journey to your new home?

The next and last question is, how will you have the next annuity paid to you; will you have it in goods or in money? Should you prefer to receive it in such goods as will suit your wants, your father, the President, will have them delivered to you at fair prices, and much lower than you obtain them from the traders. In conclusion, as your friend and brother, I have only to say that Captain Russell and myself are to accompany you to your new home; and for myself, and I will add for Captain Russell, who hears me, we pledge ourselves to be your friends, to share your toils and hardships, and your sufferings, if, unfortunately, any of you should unexpectedly suffer.

The propositions which I present for your decision are—

1st. Will you accept the invitation of your brothers of the western Creek nation?

2d. Do you prefer cattle or money, when you arrive at your new home, for the cattle which, under the treaty, you must give up here?

3d. Will you petition to go by water, or do you prefer to go by land?

4th. How will you have the next annuity paid to you, in money or in goods?

These are the questions I wish you to deliberate upon, and give me your answer to them as soon as you have made up your minds. When you retire and enter into private council upon the propositions that I have thus submitted, should you want any further explanation on either point, send for me. I will attend you, give the desired explanation, and retire immediately, so as not to be an intruder on your private councils. You are at liberty to retire.

The speaker of the nation, Holate Emartha, said they would retire, and hold a private council this evening, and also again in the morning, and after that they would attend the agent in council. He then addressed the Indian assembly, by stating that they now had no excuse; that they had heard all that the agent had now said at Payne's Landing; that in their consultation they must not act like fools.

solemn treaty they entered into at Payne's Landing; they should come to me to-day with such a talk as they have made. Is it anything like an answer to the propositions and questions which I submitted yesterday for your consideration and decision? The meeting was appointed for the 21st instant; three days have passed away, and the chiefs come to me to-day with a foolish talk about Camp Moultrie. Is this a talk like chiefs? Is it such as I had a right to expect from you after my honest talk to you? I will not, dare not receive your talk to-day as anything like an answer to the questions which I submitted to you yesterday. I must have a direct answer to those questions. The first is, Will you accept of the invitation from your brothers of the west? The second is, Do you prefer money or cattle at your new home for the cattle you will leave here? The third is, Do you wish to go by water? The fourth is, Do you prefer to have your next annuity paid to you in goods suitable to your wants, or will you have it in money? And I want you, when you meet me again in council, to give me a correct account of the number of your people, that the government may provide for you comfortably while on your journey, whether by land or water. Now retire, and take as much time as is necessary to deliberate on the points which I have submitted to you, and when you are ready to meet me let me know. When you come here again, come prepared to act like chiefs and honorable men; don't bring to me any more foolish talks; men do not listen to the talks of a child, and remember that the talk I gave you must and will stand.

October 25, 1834.

The council convened at 11 o'clock—interpreters as yesterday.

The agent said to the council, I am ready to receive your answers to the questions which I submitted to you.

Holde Mico.—I have only to repeat what I said yesterday, and to say that the twenty years from the treaty at Moultrie has not yet expired. I never gave my consent to go west; the whites may say so, but I never gave my consent.

Jumper.—We are not satisfied to go until the end of the twenty years; according to the treaty at Camp Moultrie, we were called upon to go to the west, beyond the Mississippi. It is a good country. This is a poor country, we know. We had a good deal of trouble to get there; what would it be for all our tribe?

Mico-an-opa.—I say what I said yesterday. I did not sign the treaty.

Charley Bimawtha.—The agent told us yesterday that we did not talk to the point. I have nothing to say different from what I said yesterday. At Payne's Landing the white people forced us into the treaty. I was there; I agreed to go west, and did go west; I went in a vessel, and it made me sick. I undertook to go there, and think that for so many people it would be very bad. The Indians and the whites have spilt no blood; they have stole things from each other. At Payne's Landing the tomahawk was buried, and peace was to prevail, as agreed upon by whites and Indians. They agreed at Payne's Landing that if blood was seen in the path, to think it was because a person had snagged his foot. We wish to hear the agent's views and opinions on the matter.

The agent.—You tell me you wish to hear me upon the subject of your relations with the United States. And you have told me that you want to talk the matter over calmly, and in good humor; I am not mad; I am your friend; I feel here that I am, and that it is my official duty to be so. All the reply required of me, officially, to your foolish and unreasonable talk, is that it is no answer to the questions I submitted to you. I cannot, I dare not receive it as an answer. I have told you that you must stand to your bargain. My talk is still the same. You must go west. Your father, the President, who is your friend, will compel you to go. Therefore, be not deluded by any hope or expectation that you will be permitted to remain here. You have expressed a wish to hear my views and opinions upon the whole matter. As a man and your friend, I will this once deign to reason with you, for I want to show you that your talk to-day is the foolish talk of a child. Holde Mico tells me that one God made us all, and that we all descended from one woman, and drew nourishment from one breast. When I admit this truth, as I cheerfully do, I feel here, in my bosom, that you are my brothers, and that I am your friend. We should therefore act towards each other as brothers, and not speak with a forked tongue. If we do, if we try to break our solemn talk, that Great Spirit that made us will punish us. Mico-an-opa tells me that he did not sign the treaty at Payne's Landing, and that the twenty years' annuity, according to the Camp Moultrie treaty, is not expired. I hold in my hand the treaty of Payne's Landing; here is Mico-an-opa's name and mark to it. It was witnessed by [here the witnesses were named;] they are honest men; therefore Mico-an-opa does not tell the truth; he did sign the treaty at Payne's Landing. (Mico-an-opa interrupted agent by saying he did not touch the pen, he only reached over and pointed to it.) He did touch the pen; when he attempted to sign by pointing, he was told to touch. Hicks bent down out of his way; he did sign the treaty. Jumper says they agreed at Payne's Landing to go and examine the country west; but they were not bound to move to it until the nation should agree to do so after the return of the delegation; and he adds, what others of you have said, that the treaty at Camp Moultrie was to stand for twenty years. Such a talk from Jumper surprises me, for he is a man of sense; he understands the treaty at Payne's Landing, which he signed; he was the first named in that treaty of the delegation appointed to go west. He knows that that treaty gave him and the other members of the delegation authority to decide whether the nation should remove or not. He visited and examined the country that was proposed to you, and he, with all the other members of the delegation, decided that the country is good; that the Seminole nation should remove to it, according to the treaty at Payne's Landing. The Indian board of commissioners made a treaty with your brothers of the west, by which they agreed to reunite with you, and Jumper, with all the other members of the delegation, made a final treaty, which I now hold in my hand, with all their names subscribed to it, confirming the treaty at Payne's Landing. The President, therefore, will be astonished when he hears that Jumper has made a different talk now.

Charley Bimawtha says that the treaty at Camp Moultrie was made by men, and that it has seven years yet to stand, and that they are not bound by the treaty at Payne's Landing to remove west, because the question was not submitted to the Seminole nation, after their delegation returned, whether they were willing to go. You all say that as there are seven years of the twenty years' annuity stipulated in the treaty of Camp Moultrie yet to run, you are not bound to go until the full term is expired; and yet the whole of you signed a treaty at Payne's Landing, by which you solemnly bound yourselves to remove within three years from the ratification of that treaty; and the whole of the delegation that went west confirmed that promise by entering into a final agreement to do so, by which the whole nation is bound. But why talk about the Camp Moultrie treaty, as if you had not the right or power to make the treaty at Payne's Landing until the term of annuity stipulated by the treaty at Camp Moultrie shall have expired? Was it not in your power to make the treaty at Payne's Landing? Did you not have the right to do so? If you did not have the right to do so, then you, who signed the treaty at Payne's Landing, were faithless to your people, and are unfit to be chiefs. If I make a trade with you, by which I give you the use of my horse during four or more years for twenty dollars a year, would we not have the right to make another trade before the expiration of the time limited, by which I would take my horse back again? You know you had the right to make that treaty. You did make it, and you know and feel that you are all bound by it. But you say the treaty at Camp Montrie was made by men, thereby indicating that the treaty at Payne's Landing was not made by men. Was it made by old women and children? If the spirit of Hicks is now fitting around us, how must he grieve at your conduct—how blush to hear you acknowledge you are not men—that you are unfit to be chiefs. But it is said by Charley Emarthla that the white people forced you into the treaty at Payne's Landing. If you were so cowardly as to be forced by any body to do what you ought not to do, you are unfit to be chiefs, and your people ought to hunt you from your stations.

But you know that this is not the truth. You know you were not forced to do it. You know that Colonel Gadsden told you at Payne's Landing that it was the wish of your father, the President, to remove you west of the Mississippi river.

That you had met to make a treaty for that purpose; that it was a proposition in which you were deeply interested; and he told you to take time, therefore, and reflect well upon it; for if you then agreed to it, you would be obliged to comply. You know that Colonel Gadsden is a pure man. You know that the witnesses to the treaty are respectable men. You well understood that treaty then. You understand it now; and you feel that you slander the whites by saying that you were forced to make that treaty. You made the treaty because you were authorized to do so, and because it was your duty to consult the good of your people; this is your justification to your people for having made the treaty. You by this treaty clothed your delegation with power to say whether the nation should move west. They went and viewed the country and found it good; this is their justification to the nation for making the final agreement with the Indian board of commissioners. Having found the country good, they were bound to do as they did. According to the form of the white people's government, each State and Territory has its own boundaries. The States have the right to extend their laws over the Indians located within their respective limits. With the permission of Congress the Territories may do the same. Georgia, Alabama, and other States, have already extended their jurisdiction over the Indians within their respective limits. The Creeks, Choctaws, Chickasaws, and Cherokees who live in the States are removing west of the Mississippi river because they cannot live under the white people's laws. They are gone and going; and the Seminole people are a mere handful to their number. Two governments cannot exist in the same boundary of Territory. Where Indians remain within the limits of a State or Territory until the jurisdiction of the State or Territory shall be extended over them, the Indian government, laws, and chiefships are forever done away. The Indians are subject to the white man's laws. The Indian must be tried, whether for debt or crime, in the white man's court. The Indian's law is not to be known there; the Indian's evidence is not to be heard there; the Indian will in everything be subject to the control of the white man. It is this view of the subject which induces your father, the President, to settle his red children beyond the limits of the States and Territories, where the white man's law is never to reach you, and where you and your children are to possess the land while grass grows and water runs. He feels for his red children as a father should feel. It is therefore that he made the treaty with you at Payne's Landing, and for the same reason he will compel you to comply with your bargain.

But let us look a little more closely into your own situation. Suppose (what is, however, impossible) that you could be permitted to remain here a few years longer, what would be your condition? This land will soon be surveyed, sold to, and settled by the whites. There is now a surveyor in the country. The jurisdiction of the Territory will soon be extended over this country; your laws would be set aside; your chiefs would cease to be chiefs; claims for debt and for your negroes would be set up against you by bad white men, or you would perhaps be charged with crimes affecting life; you hunted before the white man's court; the claims against you for debt, for your negroes, or other property, and the charges of crime preferred against you, would be decided by the white man's laws. White men would be witnesses against you; Indians would not be permitted to give evidence. Your condition in a very few years would be hopeless wretchedness. But let us come down to a single case. Suppose Mico-an-opa could be permitted to take a reserve of a mile square, and he could be permitted to remain here a few years longer. He has many fine-looking negroes; there are persons who have an itching desire to obtain some of the fine negroes in the nation. The white man's law extended over Mico-an-opa; a white sets up a claim to Mico-an-opa's negroes, and exhibits in the white man's court a bill of sale from Mico-an-opa: do you not believe that some white man could be got to prove the bill of sale? Indian evidence would not be admitted, and Mico-an-opa would be compelled to give up his negroes. When I was in this country last winter I was told that Mico-an-opa, on some occasion, asked a white man to draw a piece of writing for him: the man did so. Mico-an-opa signed it, and some time thereafter the man set up a claim to a considerable part of this country; for the writing, instead of what Mico-an-opa wanted, turned out to be a conveyance from him to the man of a large tract of land. This was many years ago; but all bad men are not yet dead, and white men can still write, and Mico-an-opa has likely negroes. Thus you may see that, were it possible for Mico-an-opa to remain here a few years longer, he would be reduced to hopeless poverty; and when urged by hunger to ask, perhaps of the man who would have thus ruined him, (and is perhaps now tampering with him for the purpose of getting his property,) for a crust of bread, he might be called an Indian dog, and be ordered to clear out. (Here Powell, who was seated by Mico-an-opa, urged him to be firm in his resolution.)

Your father, the President, sees all these evils, and will save you from them by removing you west; and I stand up for the last time to tell you that you must go; if not willingly, you will be compelled to go. I should have told you that no more annuity will be paid you here. (Powell replied that he did not care whether any more was ever paid.) I hope you will, on more mature reflection, act like honest men, and not compel me to report you to your father, the President, as faithless to your engagements.

Powell said that the decision of the chiefs was given; that they did not intend to give any other answer.

Mico-an-opa said he did not intend to move.

The agent: I am now fully satisfied that you are wilfully disposed to be entirely dishonest in regard to your engagements with the President, and regret that I must so report you. The talk which I have made to you must and will stand; retire and prepare your sticks to receive your annuity to-morrow.

DEPARTMENT OF WAR, November 24, 1834.

Sir: Your communication of the 28th ultimo to the Commissioner of Indian Affairs, together with the enclosures containing the proceedings of the council held with the Indians at Camp King, has been laid before the President.

It is utterly impossible to submit to the demands made by the Indians. Every consideration of good faith and expediency with respect to themselves, and the just and humane policy on the part of the United States, requires their removal in conformity with the stipulations of the treaty. I have no doubt but you are right, and that the sentiments disclosed by the Indians are those of interested advisers, and not their own. They have stipulated to remove west. They have ceded their country in Florida, and it will soon be sold and occupied by our citizens. Part of the appropriations for fulfilling the treaty have been made, and others will be asked for as fast as required.

It is nothing less than insanity or an utter ignorance of their own position which can induce them, under these circumstances, to expect to remain. To comply with their wishes, or, rather, with what is represented as their wishes, would be utter ruin to them.

I enclose a speech which you will deliver and explain to them, and the suggestions of which you will enforce by such considerations as may occur to you. Orders will this day be issued from the Adjutant General's office for an increase of military force in the vicinity of these Indians, and Colonel Clinch will be directed to take the command in person. You will communicate fully with him, and furnish all the information in your power.

The object of this movement is to overawe and restrain such of the disaffected Indians as seem by your report to meditate hostilities. My own impression, however, is, that they will operate upon the fears of their own people, and prevent those who are willing to emigrate from doing so. If any hostilities are attempted, they must instantly be checked by force. If illegal violence is used against individuals with a view to prevent their emigration or to excite disturbance, let the trespassers be arrested and tried by the civil authority. Assure the well-disposed that they will be protected. You will also inform the Indians that all their annuities will be withheld until they commence a compliance with the stipulations of the treaty.

I trust that these measures will induce them to relinquish any design they may have to oppose the fulfilment of the treaty. Should they, however, finally determine not to remove, you will, before any other proceedings take place, report the state of things to this department, and await further instructions.

You will communicate to the commanding officer at Camp King the views herein presented.

L. E. W. CASS.

General Wiley Thompson, Seminole Agency.

DEPARTMENT OF WAR, November 22, 1834.

My Friends: Your agent, General Thompson, has forwarded to me an account of the proceedings which took place at the council held with you at Fort King on the 28th ultimo, and of the speeches there made by you.

I have laid these before your great father, the President, and I am instructed by him to say to you that he has been very much surprised at the temper which you have manifested. You made a treaty with Colonel Gadsden, by which you agreed, in the event of certain chiefs named by you being satisfied with respect to the country west of the Mississippi, and with the favorable disposition of the Creek Indians living there, that you would remove to that country upon certain conditions stated in the treaty itself. These chiefs visited that country at the expense of the United States, and, being satisfied on the subjects above mentioned, concluded an arrangement with the commissioners of the United States west of the Mississippi for consummating the whole matter. By these stipulations the United States are under obligations to perform certain conditions entered into for your benefit, and you were under obligations to quit your present residence and to remove to the west within three years, and a portion of you designated in the treaty, being those occupying the Big swamp and other parts of the country beyond the limits, as concluded in the 2d article of the treaty formed at Camp Montrie creek within the year 1833. But your delegation not having acted sufficiently early to enable the United States to ratify the treaty so as to commence the removal in 1833, it will necessarily be postponed till 1835, at which time it must be commenced, and that portion of your people removed who are designated for the first removal in the treaty. The United States stand ready to fulfil all their engagements, and arrangements with that view will be made this winter. The treaty requires you to remove. You have ceded your country, which will soon be surveyed and sold, and which will leave you without a residence where you now are. The effort to remain will be destructive to you, and the President will not listen to such a proposition. It is dishonorable to you, and such as ought not to be entertained. Do not delude yourselves; listen to your agent; he has spoken to you words of truth and wisdom, and his words will come to pass.

As there may be bad men among you, and as, in fact, I am informed that some of your people opposed to removal have threatened the lives of those who are disposed faithfully to carry the treaty into effect, the President has directed that a body of soldiers be sent into your country to protect the well-disposed, to arrest and deliver over to the proper authority those who are guilty of illegal acts, and to take such measures as may be proper and just to enforce the fulfilment of the treaty. I advise you, therefore, to prepare yourselves against the spring to carry into effect on your part the promises made to Colonel Gadsden.

Agents will be with you to execute all that is required on the part of the United States. Shut your ears to bad counsels, keep your promises, and all will be well. You will be removed to a country already occupied by your people, where the climate and soil are good, where the white people cannot trespass upon you, and where you may increase and improve.

I am your friend,

for the purpose of bringing in the Indians who have wandered off to that desolate region, and, at the same time, displaying at the posts military preparations sufficiently imposing to overawe the refractory chiefs, requires a stronger force.

I have heretofore submitted, for the consideration of the Secretary of War, some reasons why the Indians should be removed all at the same time by water, and as early as practicable. Do me the favor to inform me at Elberton, Georgia, what the decision of the Secretary of War is upon those points.

If admissible, you will oblige me by forwarding to this agency blank books and printed forms suitable to the business which I have to do as special agent.

I am, sir, very respectfully, your obedient servant,

General George GINSON, Commissary General of Subsistence.

WILLEY THOMPSON.

No. 5.

Fort KING, Florida, March 9, 1835.

Sir: The several communications from the Department of War, the general-in-chief, and from your office, have been duly received, and I have given to them the deepest consideration. Since General Thompson left this, I have not met the chiefs in general council, as I have long since found that I could do more by conversing with them separately. Their old and principal chief, Micanopy, has not attended any of the councils for a considerable time past, but has communicated with the agent through his subordinate chiefs. This I have objected to, and some time since informed Micanopy that whenever he wanted my advice, or wanted to communicate anything he wished forwarded to the government, he must come in person. The chiefs have recently held a talk at Micanopy's town, and I have been informed by them that Micanopy, with all the principal chiefs, are to be here in eight days from this date, by which time I am in hopes General Thompson will return; if not, I will read to them the President's talk, and explain and enforce it by every means in my power. In all the conversations I have held with the chiefs, I have held out the idea that, as the three years stipulated in the treaty was about expiring, the whole nation would be required to remove this spring. From the late instructions from the department, the whole subject of removal appears to have assumed a different aspect, and three questions, growing out of this state of things, present themselves so forcibly to my mind that I feel it my duty respectfully to submit them to the consideration of the honorable Secretary of War. Firstly, as to their being removed in detachments. This plan will be attended with much greater expense and inconvenience to the government than if they were removed together, and will, in my humble opinion, be destructive to the interests and comfort of the Indians that are left behind. Having no agent to watch over and protect them, their property, consisting of negroes and cattle, will soon fall a prey to the cupidity of the designing white man who is lying concealed with his false titles to pounce on their negroes, and, with whiskey, to defraud them of their cattle. Secondly, will it not be better to remove them together at once if we can do so, which I now think can be done, as some of the chiefs already begin to waver in their opposition, and I think the appearance of the four companies will have much influence in causing them to decide in favor of going? I also believe that the President's kind and fatherly talk will have much influence with them when properly explained and enforced. I further believe that when we get the old chief Micanopy face to face, and explain the views, wishes, and determinations of the President, it will have much influence with him. He is a man of but little talent or energy of character, but, from his age and wealth, has much influence in the nation. Or, thirdly, perhaps it would be better to let them remain until next spring, provided they will consent to remove peaceably and quietly on the first day of March next. Many are inclined to this plan, and I believe the whole nation will readily come into the measure. It is impossible not to feel a deep interest and much sympathy for this people; but at the same time every humane and benevolent man at all acquainted with their character must acknowledge that the wise and benevolent course adopted by the government is the only one that can save them from utter destruction. And when all other plans fail, then it is humanity to compel the refractory to conform to the measures that have been wisely adopted for the general good of the whole nation. Whilst I stand prepared to use every exertion in my power to carry out the plans that have or may hereafter be adopted by the department, I beg leave respectfully to state it as my decided opinion that the interest, both of the Indians and of the United States, will be served by removing them at once, and all together; or by letting them remain until the 1st of March next, and then removing them in mass. They will then be under the watchful care of their faithful and efficient agent, in whom I have much confidence, and to whom I will render every service in my power. So soon as the four companies arrive I will make such distribution of them as will secure the quiet of the frontier and keep the Indians in awe.

I am, sir, with the highest respect and esteem, your most obedient,

D. L. CLINCH, Brig. General U. S. Army.
 Bvt. Brig. General R. Jones, Adjutant General, Washington City.

Fort KING, Florida, April 1, 1835.

Sir: A number of the chiefs and headmen of the Seminole nation commenced assembling at this post on the 27th and 29th ultimo. Micanopy, with all the chiefs that were present, met General Thompson and myself in council, when the President's talk, together with the treaties of Moultrie and Payne's Landings, were read and fully explained to them by General Thompson. The chief, &c., after some deliberation, stated that, inasmuch as a great many of the chiefs and warriors were absent, and as they were very desirous to have the sense of the whole nation on a subject of such deep importance to them, they requested that a further time of thirty days might be given them to enable them to assemble the whole nation. This request was refused, on the ground that the time asked for was longer than necessary to effect the object in view, and that twenty days would give them ample time. We finally agreed to give them twenty-two days from the 27th ultimo, at the expiration of which time the whole nation are to meet us in council at this post. General Thompson and myself had several private interviews with Micontopy and the principal chiefs, and explained everything clearly and fully to them, and used every argument and exertion in our power to convince them of the utter folly of attempting to resist by force the fulfillment of their solemn treaties, as it would certainly bring misery and ruin upon their wives and children, and on their nation.

The reading of the President's talk, and the appearance of the six companies, appeared to have, in my opinion, considerable effect on them. The fact is clear to my mind that a large portion of the nation have never brought themselves to think seriously on the subject of removal, and have not made the least preparation for such a crisis. My own impression is, that they will ask for an extension of time to make their arrangements preparatory to a removal; and I think, under all the circumstances of the case, it will be advisable to give them a few months.

The disbursing officer has not yet arrived, and nothing has been done in procuring transportation, provisions, &c., preparatory to a removal; and in fact, if the disbursing officer was present, and one-third of the nation willing to go, the necessary arrangements could not be made under two months, when it would be too late to risk a movement of this kind, on account of the approach of our hot season. General Thompson accords fully in the views above expressed. Should the chiefs come to the conclusion to remove quietly, it will still be necessary to keep the present force in Florida until they remove, as the only means of compelling them to comply with their engagements; and I still think that the two six-pounders would have had much weight in our deliberations.

I am, with high respect, your most obedient,

D. I. GILNCH, Brevet Brigadier General United States Army.
Brevet Brigadier General R. Jones, Adjutant General, Washington City, D. C.

SEANORE AGENCY, March 31, 1835.

Sir: Having availed myself of permission to visit my family, I returned to this place on the 20th instant, where I found your communication of the 18th ultimo awaiting my arrival.

The Indians having called a meeting at this place, to be held on the 27th instant, General Clinch determined to seize that occasion to read to the Indians the President's message addressed "to the chiefs and warriors of the Seminole Indians in Florida."

On the 27th the Indians began to assemble, and General Clinch and myself availed ourselves of every opportunity to hold private conversations with the chiefs for the purpose of making favorable impressions on their minds preparatory to the meeting in council.

On the 29th we met about one hundred and fifty Indians (including the principal and several of the leading chiefs) in council, when I read to them the President's message and the treaties, enforced the President's message, explained the treaties, and concluded with an appeal to the chiefs in favor of their women, children, and common people.

Jumper, who is the principal chief law-maker, and (as he is sometimes called) sense-keeper, said that they had listened with attention, but that, as many of the chiefs were absent, they could not then make any reply to what was said to them. He begged that I would not make any report to the government upon the subject, or (as he expressed it) send no talk to their great father, the President, until we could have a full meeting of the chiefs in council. That meeting is to take place on the 20th of the ensuing month, (April,) and every practicable arrangement is made to insure a full council. I have sent express for the interpreter Richards, and for Holate Emartli, a principal chief, whom I had permitted to withdraw from the nation, in consequence of threats against his life.

If there is any change in the temper and feelings of the Indians, it is favorable; and I indulge the hope that, by prudent management, they may yet be induced to remove voluntarily.

I am much indebted to General Clinch, who, on all occasions, promptly, vigilantly, and efficiently aids me in my operation.

In performance of the duty assigned me of investigating the claims against these Indians, under the treaty of Payne's Landing, it is necessary that I should possess, not only the documents which have been forwarded to the department in support of individual claims, but, to guard against imposition, I should have the use of the printed report made by General Preston on claims, under the treaty of 1821, with the Creek Indians, and a copy of the report upon claims against the Creek Indians for depredations subsequently committed, principally in Lee county, in Georgia. The Commissioner of the Indian Office has recently informed me that all the documentary evidence relating to individual claims will be shortly transmitted to me; but as he makes no allusion to the printed pamphlets to which I allude, (I have requested copies,) I fear they have been overlooked.

I have the honor to be, &c.,

WILEY THOMPSON.

WAR DEPARTMENT, April 14, 1835.

Sir: Your letter of the 10th ultimo to the adjutant general has been laid before me, and I have conversed with the President on the subjects therein referred to

Your views seem to me to be equally judicious and humane. Certainly there is not the slightest wish to oppress the unhappy Seminoles who have stipulated for their own removal. But their continuance where they now are for any length of time is absolutely impossible; and the sooner they are satisfied of this fact, the better it will be for them. Still, however, I should much prefer a voluntary and peaceable

No. 13.

SEMINOLE AGENCY, August 1, 1835.

Sir: About the 19th or 20th of June a rencontre occurred between a party of whites and a party of straggling Indians, in which three of the whites were wounded, one of the Indians killed, and one wounded, of which I received information on the 2d. There were at that time five of the principal chiefs at the agency. I immediately despatched runners for others, who promptly attended, to all of whom I made known the outrage which had been committed, and peremptorily demanded of the nation a surrender of the depredators. The chiefs at once disclaimed the outrageous act of their countrymen, and promptly ordered the apprehension of the culprits; and on the succeeding morning (which was the 24th) four of them were brought up and surrendered to me, and two more were brought on the evening of the same day and given up. The examination of these two parties was separately taken, a copy of which you have herewith enclosed.

The wounded Indian was, during the succeeding night, borne on the shoulders of others, who were sent to bring him to within three or four miles of this place, when it was found that he was so ill from a severe wound that he could be brought no further. I permitted him to remain there on a pledge of the chiefs that, when sufficiently recovered, he should be brought to the garrison and be confined. The other six were kept in confinement until the 27th ultimo, when I turned them over to the chiefs, on their giving me a pledge that, when called for, the whole of the seven should be surrendered to the civil authority. The accompanying copy of a correspondence, which will show that I made a tender of them to the civil authority, will, I trust, be a sufficient justification of the course I have taken. I have not yet received an answer from Judge Sanchez. The chiefs began to complain of delay; the prisoners became extremely impatient, and a proper regard to economy of delay; the prisoners became extremely the expense of supplying them with provisions.

The chiefs acted promptly and with energy, for which they merit commendation.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

WILLEY THOMPSON.

SEMINOLE AGENCY, July 27, 1835.

Sir: On the 7th instant I wrote to Francis R. Sanchez, esq, judge of Alachua county court, making a tender of the Indian prisoners now in confinement, through him, to the civil authority. My letter to him was delivered by Lieutenant G. Smith on the 9th instant. Eighteen days have since transpired and I have not yet received an answer, notwithstanding the short distance which separates Judge Sanchez from this post. I have therefore decided to release them to the chiefs now assembled, on their pledge (which they have given to me) to deliver them up should they be hereafter called for.

I request, therefore, that you will order them to be sent to my office, when the chiefs are assembled.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

WILLEY THOMPSON.

Colonel A. G. FANNING.

CAMP KING, July 26, 1835.

Sir: On the 9th of July I delivered your letter to Francis R. Sanchez, esq, judge of the county court of Alachua; also a communication addressed to myself, in which you expressed a desire to co-operate with the civil authority in a full investigation of all the circumstances which lately occurred between a party of Seminole Indians and several citizens of Alachua. After reading the communications referred to, Judge Sanchez stated to me that he should be obliged to postpone writing to you on the subject in question until he could see the parties interested in the affair, and hear their statements and views as to the disposition of the Indian prisoners. At your request, I read your letter to many respectable citizens. The original I herewith enclose.

I am, very respectfully, sir, your most obedient servant,

CONSTANTINE SMITH,

Lieutenant 2d Regiment of Artillery.

General WREX THOMPSON,

Supt of Indian Affairs, Seminole Agency, East Florida.

No. 13—C.

SEMINOLE AGENCY, July 7, 1835.

Sir: Some days ago I sent Mr. Winstlett to request some of the citizens who were engaged in the late unfortunate occurrence with a party of Indians in Alachua county to attend an examination of the Indian prisoners at this place, for the purpose of coming to a conclusion as to the propriety of sending them to that county for trial. I did so because, judging from the statements made by the Indians, and the statement I heard the party of the whites give of the affair, I thought it probable that the citizens would be of the opinion that the six Indians who were disarmed by the whites before the firing commenced were guilty of no crime but going beyond their boundary and killing a cow, and that it would therefore be improper to trouble the court with their trial, and charge the public with the expense of their transportation, imprisonment, and trial. The chiefs are ready to inflict the penalty of the Indian laws upon them, which is severe whipping. The owner of the cow that was killed will have a claim upon the nation for her value. The other prisoner is subject to a more serious charge, and ought to be punished by the civil authority. I wrote to F. R. Sanchez, esq., judge of Alachua county court, making a tender of all the prisoners, through him, to the civil authority of the county; and having heard that you are on your way to his neighborhood, I beg the favor of you to present the letter to him, (and send this to him,) as it more fully explains my views, and request of him an answer. It is important that the subject should be immediately attended to, as the Indians begin to complain of delay. Judge Sanchez lives within three miles of Normansville. I am told that Mr. Winstlett stated that if the citizens did not attend on the day appointed I would release the prisoners. He misunderstood me, as I never had an idea of releasing them until I fully discharged my duty in making a direct and regular tender of them to the civil authority. Please bring Judge Sanchez's answer with you.

Very respectfully, your humble servant,

Lieutenant G. SMITH.

SEMINOLE AGENCY, July 5, 1835.

Sir: I sent express, some days ago, to request the attendance of such of the citizens who were engaged in the unfortunate affair which recently occurred in your county with a small party of Indians as could come to this place, to do so, for the purpose of making an examination of the Indian prisoners, seven of whom are in custody, with a view to determine whether it will be proper to trouble the court with the trial, and charge the public with the expense of all of them. I have examined six of them, who say there were but eight Indians in the party; that two only fired on the whites; that six were dismissed by the whites before the firing commenced, and that they could not therefore have fired, if they had been so disposed. If this statement be true, and it so far agrees with the statement which, as I have heard, the whites make, the six Indians attacked were only guilty of going beyond their boundary. If so, they would be subjected to no other penalty than that inflicted by the Indian law, which is severe, and the chiefs are ready to inflict that. The wounded Indian is subject to a more serious charge, and ought (as I think) to be punished by the civil authority. I make a tender, through you, to the civil authority of Alachua county of the whole of them, and request that you will inform me whether the whole, and if not the whole, what portion of them will be claimed by it. You are aware that the demand for them must be based upon admissible affidavits, charging them with a crime punishable by the civil authority.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

WILLEY THOMPSON, Indian Agent.

F. R. SANCHEZ, Esq., Judge of Alachua County Court.

Sir: There were some of my neighbors out in the woods the other day and were fired on by the Indians, and three of them badly wounded, for which they ask satisfaction of you, you being the proper person; and if they cannot get any other satisfaction, they are determined to take it of them, if they do not keep on their own side of the boundary line. We are going on a scout on the 25th instant for to cruise on the line; and if we find any that refuse to be taken, we shall deal with them as they deserve. My company consists of one hundred men, and there are about the same number from the upper country and elsewhere that volunteer their services for to take the route. Please to send me an answer and some advice on the subject.

Yours in haste, this 22d of June, 1835

S. V. WALKER.

General Thompson.

SEMINOLE AGENCY, June 23, 1835.

Sir: Your letter of yesterday's date was handed to me this evening by Mr. Warren. I regret the occurrence of the circumstance referred to by you, of which I heard before the arrival of your express. I have made a demand on the nation for the Indians who committed the outrage. To-morrow the chiefs are to assemble here for the purpose of ordering the delivery of the depredaters over to the civil authorities. I have no doubt they will be given up. I am much pleased to learn that you, with your company, and a company from an adjoining county, intend to scour the country on the Indian border, in the direction you indicate, as I have no doubt it will have a salutary effect upon the Micksaskey Indians, who are the most troublesome of any belonging to the nation, especially if the operation should be directed by prudence and proper discretion, as I trust it will. You are aware of the delicate character of our relations with those people, and that all causeless irritation should be avoided. The outrage complained of is well calculated to excite indignation and alarm, but I do not consider it as evidence of a settled purpose of any considerable portion of these people to commit hostilities; and I trust that the results of the ensuing three or four days will evince the correctness of my opinion. I have to request, therefore, that you will not, during your excursion, cross the Indian boundary, nor permit any act to be done which would tend to irritate the Indians that can be reasonably avoided. If you can extend your search beyond the Suwannee river, it will enable you to accomplish the object of driving the Indians within their boundary; should you fall in with any, try to get possession of them without bloodshed.

Take their guns and packs from them, and I think it will have a good effect to lodge them in jail. The idea of a jail conveys terror to the Indian mind. Be so good as to keep a strict register of the guns, &c., that may be taken, so that they may be turned over to this office and eventually restored to their owners. Very respectfully, your humble servant,

WILEY THOMPSON, Indian Agent.

SEMIWOLE AGENCY, June 24, 1835.—Forenoon.

Examination of Wacoochee Hajo, Sapokitee, We Katitkee, and Gapiich Hajo, four of the Indians who formed the party that committed the outrage in Alachua county, on the —— day of June, 1835.

THEIR STATEMENT.

Wacoochee Hajo, Sapokitee, We Katitkee, Pise, and Lecotichee, of Long swamp, went beyond the Indian boundary, near Kenapaha pond, in Alachua county. Before they reached there they killed a cow which belonged to some one of the whites in the neighborhood of Drannont's pond; when they got within three miles of Kenapaha, near a sink-hole where there is water, they encamped. Another party of Indians, viz: Gapiich Hajo, Chokikee, and Hithlomee, from Big swamp, who had been upon the Santa Fé river, met them and encamped a short distance from the first party. That two of the Long swamp Indians, to wit: Lecotichee and Pise, went out hunting in the morning. The other six, to wit: Wacoochee Hajo, Sapokitee, We Katitkee, Gapiich Hajo, Chokikee, and Hithlomee, were together about 12 o'clock at one of the camps, when a party of whites arrived at the camp where the Indians were together, took their guns from three of them, examined their packs, and commenced whipping them, and the Indians ran off; one of them ran but a short distance when he was called by the whites. The whites commenced whipping him again; he called to another Indian who had also ran off. At that crisis the two Indians who had been out hunting, to wit: Lecotichee and Pise, were approaching the camp, and commenced firing on the party of whites. The whites returned the fire, killed Pise and wounded Lecotichee severely; the other three from Long swamp were disarmed before the firing commenced. The three from Big swamp who were at the camp of the Long swamp Indians when the whites arrived, and had left their guns at their own camp, ran off when the firing commenced without their guns. After the whites left the scene of action one or two of the Indians went back and got their guns.

Three guns were taken by the whites before the firing commenced, and were carried off by them. But two Indians, to wit: Pise and Lecotichee, fired, and they fired two or three times each.

JUNE 25, 1835.—Afternoon

Examination of Chokikee and Hithlomee.

They were with Gapiich Hajo, and had been upon the Santa Fé river. They met Wacoochee Hajo and four other Indians at a sink-hole where there is water, about three miles from Kenapaha pond; two of the Long swamp Indians were out hunting; the three Big swamp Indians were at the camp of the other party, making six at the camp. About 12 o'clock a party of white men came upon that camp. The whites began to whip the Indians, and about the time they commenced whipping the camp and commenced firing on the whites; and when they were in the act of firing the second round, they, the said Chokikee and Hithlomee, ran off and did not stop until they reached their town. Wacoochee Hajo, Sapokitee, We Katitkee, Gapiich Hajo, and the said Chokikee and Hithlomee, were alone together at the same camp when the party of whites, consisting of seven, came upon them. Gapiich Hajo and the said Chokikee and Hithlomee had left their guns at their own camp. The other three, to wit: Wacoochee Hajo, Sapokitee, and We Katitkee, were disarmed by the whites before the other two, to wit: Lecotichee and Pise, or Pixonchee, approached and commenced firing; and the whites had the guns of said Indians stacked against a tree, where they were guarded by some of the whites. There were but eight Indians in the whole, and none fired but the two before stated. The others were disarmed, and could not have fired if they had been so disposed.

FORR KING, Florida, August 3, 1835.

Sir: I have the honor to acknowledge yours of the 3d ultimo, obligingly granting me permission to pass a month or two at the Virginia Spa, or elsewhere, for the recovery of my health.

In consequence of the lateness of the season, and of my present state of health forbidding immediate journeying, I shall be unable to avail myself of your polite indulgence.

I have also the honor to forward, under cover with this, my account current, statement of agents, and return of provisions, for the second quarter—illness having chiefly prevented my making these returns before.

The present prospects of emigrating are promising. It is probable the superintendent of the removal will shortly make his requisitions upon me for subsistence and transportation. Should he require water-carriage I shall doubtless set out for New York by the close of this or the commencement of the coming month. Should land transportation be required, I cannot too soon be making ready, if it is contemplated

No. 462.

[1ST SESSION.]

ON THE PAY AND ALLOWANCES OF NAVY AGENTS.

COMMUNICATED TO THE SENATE JANUARY 3, 1832.

NAVY DEPARTMENT, December 28, 1831.

SIR: I forward another bill for your consideration, connected with the subject of navy agent.

The present mode of paying them extra compensation, by means of allowances, has little sanction, except long usage. A door has been opened, by this system, for very large occasional allowances, not included under any permanent regulations; and further claims of that kind are now made by one ex-agent, to the amount of many thousand dollars.

To remove all doubts as to the legality of any payments made to this class of officers—to proportion their salaries to the present business and expenses of living at the different stations, and to lessen, in some degree, the whole amount now paid, in various ways, to these officers, and still leave to them a full and respectable remuneration—the salaries contained in the bill have been designated.

In the table marked A, is given the amount of allowances and percentage received by each agent for three years past.

The agent at the yard in this city is, of course, not included in the table, as his duties are connected with others, and partly paid in that way.

Respectfully, yours,

LEVI WOODBURY.

HON. ROBERT Y. HAYNE, Chairman Committee Naval Affairs, United States Senate.
